

Flow of Activities In a Lab

Discuss with supervisor and decide the exact title. Prepare for next steps such doing a deeper literature review.

Find a problem which has been ignored by other researchers. (Find a research gap)

Discuss your research idea with your academic supervisor after a good literature review.

Decide the methodology and prepare the study material and data.

Prepare presentation of your methodology and results to be accepted by your supervisor.

Take results and try to validate it by other studies and cite related studies in your paper.